

RESTORATIVE SLEEP WORKSHOP

The Art, Science, and Spiritual Practice of Sleep

January 6-8, 2023

facilitated by Jessica Del Pozo

Begins with dinner on Friday at 5:15pm; registration between 3:00 and 5:00pm.
Ends after lunch on Sunday.

Do you really want to sleep? Our invisible sleep and waking rhythms influence how we feel, what we do, and how we relate to others. Our internal clocks connect us to everything natural and can be easily disrupted. This retreat provides practical skills that honor the body's natural rhythms to guide us toward deep and restful sleep while also viewing sleep as a spiritual practice that, like any skill, we can learn to do better. Our relationship with sleep can be transformed from a struggle of deprivation to a nurturing and sacred practice. Learn intimate details about sleep architecture, how to navigate challenging sleep terrain, and align our daily patterns into rhythms of restoration. We can sleep better and bring ourselves fully, creatively, and wholly to each new dawn.

Jessica Del Pozo, PhD, is a licensed clinical psychologist, retreat facilitator, and author of the blog Being Awake Better. She has over 20 years of experience in healthcare helping individuals, professionals, and organizations integrate systemic changes that build resilience and life-long well-being.
